

GREATER BOULDER YOUTH ORCHESTRAS

GBYO Scrip Online

The nice thing about the scrip online program is before you make an online purchase at hundreds of major retailers i.e. The Home Depot, Old Navy, Walmart, Target, Amazon, Dick's Sporting Goods, Southwest Airlines, etc., you can quickly toggle over to the scrip site, purchase an online gift certificate for almost the exact amount of the purchase, toggle back to the retailer online shopping cart and enter your scrip gift card number and pin and voila without incurring any additional cost raise anywhere from 1% to 16% of your purchase for your family account at GBYO. Pretty powerful when you're booking airline tickets or buying a dishwasher, clothes, e-gift cards or other major purchases.

What do you need to do?

Register at shopwithscrip.com

Enter our enrollment number: F89C8BA734947. This will credit your scrip purchases to GBYO, however your purchases will be credited to your child's sub account.

Sign up with "presto pay" to make online purchases.

This allows scrip to make withdrawals from your bank account when you purchase an online gift certificate.

After you signed up for presto pay, enter your approval code pin and send an email to Pris Walker, walkerpris@gmail.com, when you've done this and thus, your account will be activated for GBYO.

Additional tips:

How do I make this an efficient rewards earning program for my family?

Set up a shopping list. There are a huge amount of merchants on Scrip (almost all national brands). You don't want to scroll through every merchant, each time you purchase something. Most people are habitual purchasers who go to certain brand names (Dominos, Home Depot, Safeway, Noodles & Company, Old Navy, Walmart, etc). Add these with increments that you expect to spend (for example, I don't walk into Noodles & Company and ever spend less than $20 with a kid or two in tow or even with Old Navy, I know that unless you're above $50.00 you have to pay for shipping so I typically throw in some socks in online purchases).

Download the mobile app MyScripWallet. I'm a little bit of a dope on mobile apps, so instead of going to the app store, I ended up going to the scrip website and downloading the app from there. Basically this allows you to reload plastic cards or electronic purchases on the fly. So if you're out and about and you know you're going to Chipolte for lunch, this is a great way to purchase an e gift certificate before you reach the front of the line. You can either reload or show a bar code at the time of checkout.

Large Purchases. One way that Scrip is most effectively used is for large purchases. This summer I bought a dishwasher on HomeDepot.Com and used Scrip gift certificates. A hint here, I went through almost the whole purchase so I could use Scrip to pay for tax and installation and basically added about $36 to my child's account. Likewise if you are traveling. Southwest, Avis, Budget, and a number of hotel chains are all part of Scrip.

Scrip also has a reloadable feature that puts money on a physical gift card in seconds. So I've ended up keeping a bunch of empty physical gift certificates in my wallet (Dick's Sporting Goods and then before making a purchase, just simply reload these online or through the mobile app).

Finally gift cards are a really nice gift. As the Scrip manager for GBYO, I would love to see folks give gift cards that have a higher margin (say Lands End for 12%, but obviously, it's important to give the right gift).
